

11th INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON MUSIC PERCEPTION AND COGNITION

August 23-27, 2010 in Seattle, Washington USA

The University of Washington School of Music is pleased to host the 11th ICMPC at our campus in Seattle.

SEATTLE

Seattle, Washington is a large city of around 2.5 million residents located in the Pacific Northwest region of the United States. The city is home to numerous cultural organizations and features a wide variety of music, theater, dance and visual art events.

THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

The University of Washington, founded in 1861, is a major research university with an enrollment of almost 38,000 students on the Seattle campus. The university is comprised of 17 schools and colleges including the College of Arts and Sciences, home of the School of Music. The 700-acre campus, located just north of downtown Seattle, regularly hosts regional, national and international scholarly events.

ACCESS

Seattle is served by Seattle-Tacoma International Airport which features non-stop air service to many destinations and easy connecting service to every major city in the world. The university is served by numerous bus routes that provide easy access to downtown Seattle and communities throughout the region.

ACCOMMODATION

The University District, in which the University of Washington is located, houses a variety of accommodation options ranging from fine hotels to simple dormitories. All are within a short walk of the UW campus. Current lodging costs range from approximately $50 for dorm accommodation to $150 for a hotel room. Seattle is home to hundreds of fine restaurants featuring local and international cuisine.

BEYOND SEATTLE

For attendees wishing to extend their trip to Seattle, the region features a wide variety of vacation options. The cities of Vancouver, British Columbia and Portland, Oregon are 3 hours from Seattle by car, train or bus. Three major national parks—Mount Rainier, North Cascades and Olympic—offer opportunities for hiking, camping and other outdoor activities.
